What Makes Us Unique

The Queens High School for Language Studies is a caring and hard working community of learners, a small high school with the opportunities a large campus offers. Every student is learning language at QHSLS. 50% of our students are native-Chinese speakers learning English, and 50% are English speakers learning Mandarin Chinese.

In four years, students are prepared for the next stage: confident and ready for success in college. With support and encouragement from dedicated teachers, counselors, and classmates, all students strive for independence and success, not just in one language but in two. 97% of our seniors graduated in 2018, with 95% of our students enrolling in four and two year colleges.
